AviChat

The contract reference tool for unions

You bargained for every word. Now every member can find them.

Members get answers from your collective agreement, cited to the article and section, any hour, on any phone. Stewards get their time back. Leadership sees what members are asking about.

Landed at 2:58 a.m. after a sixteen-hour duty day, and I report at noon. Is that legal?

No. You're owed 16 hours of rest first.

Duty day	16 h 04 m
Rest owed (duty over 14 h)	16 h
Rest ends	6:58 p.m.
Noon report	6 h 58 m short

What members get

- Only your agreement
  Side letters and MOUs included. Never the open internet.
- The source and the math
  Every answer is cited. Pay, rest and time zones are worked out step by step.
- Asks before it answers
  When an answer depends on missing details, it asks first.
- Knows where the contract stops
  Outside the agreement, it sends the member to a steward. It never guesses.

For aviation, healthcare and public-sector agreements alike.

For members

Know your rights while it still matters.

A cited answer on any phone, 24/7. Members never pay.

For stewards and reps

Stop answering the same lookup a thousand times.

Lookups handled, so time goes to grievances and organizing.

For leadership

Go into bargaining with data.

Topics members ask about. Never names.

Hours of work and rest	412
Overtime and premiums	298
